DETAILED ACTION

1. Response filed by applicants in Paper No. 12, dated May 29, 2001 has been entered and considered carefully.

2. The rejection of claims 1 and 15 under 35 USC 102(b) over Jursic et al. is maintained for reasons of record.

The gist of applicants' argument is that

(1) Jursic should not be considered as an "acid resolving agent" because an acid requires "removable" hydrogen. Please note that it is well known that acid is "proton donor" or an "electron pair acceptor" (see Morrison and Boyd textbook supplied p.33), therefore, does not limit to "removable" hydrogen.

(2) Jursic did not disclosed the formation of a salt. In the instant case, a complex involving hydrogen bonding is formed between the amide moiety and the amine of the piperidine ring (claimed compound) to form a salt complex i.e.

Such complexes are disclosed in table 1, page 1714, being formed between the resolving agents and enantiomers through amide hydrogen bonding for which delineation supra is made.

(3) Jursic does not disclosed isolation of salt. Please note that the complex formed between an acid and a base is a salt (see Morrison and Boyd textbook supplied p.34). The salts not only have been described but also isolated as seen in the chromatogram of p.1714. As described on p.1714 each peak of salt complex is identified, separated, and the chiral separating agent is recovered. Therefore, the rejection is proper when the scope of the claims are read with conventional well known definition for the terms and anticipation is found.

3. The rejection of claims 1-8, 10-11, 13 and 15 under 35 USC 103(a) over Jursic et al. In view of Berrang, Ohashi or Vanderplas is maintained for reason of record.

The gist of applicants' argument is that the Jursic reference disclosed amide resolving agents which would not motivate one skilled in the art to employ an acid resolving agent and from the name of tartranilic acid it was clear that tartranilic acid has an acid functionality, therefore, would not provide evidence of equivalency between acid resolving agent containing an COOH group with an acid resolving agent containing an CONH₂ group.

As it was explained again supra that Jursic disclosed that the resolving agent disclosed are "acidic" in function and the definition of acid and base has far advanced from mere having a COOH group. In addition, the structure of tartranilic acid is hereby attached for applicants' convenience. Please note that tartranilic acid is the CONH₂ i.e. the amide of tartaric acid and the two have been known to function interchangeably.

4. The rejection of claim 12 under 35 USC 103(a) over Jursic in view of Berrang, Oshashi or Vanderplas further in view of Patrick is maintained for reason of record. Applicants made no comments on this rejection.

5. The rejection of claims 1-8, 10-13 and 15 under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness type double patenting over US 5,936,091 is maintained for reason of record because no terminal disclaimer was filed.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1625

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
